SHERIFF OF MARFA FINED IN EL PASO

As a result of a complaint filed Thursday by H. W. Schutte, of Marfa, Chisos county, Sheriff J. M. Deaver of Brewster county, pleaded guilty and was fined $5 and costs.

Sheriff Deaver is said to have violated Schutte in front of the Mills building, following some words that passed between them. The complaint was filed in justice J. M. Deaver's court.

Relative to the trouble, the arrest and the conviction, Mr. Schutte writes The Herald from Marfa under date of yesterday, as follows:

"Will some good city father please explain to me why an El Paso policeman cannot arrest a man, if requested to do so, if the party requesting the officer to do so points out the man he wishes arrested, not over six feet distant, and in addition, offers to go to police headquarters and file complaint against the defendant."

"Well, this is what actually happened to me Thursday. The officer told me I would have first to go to police headquarters and get a warrant and then with it and hand it to him—he would then make the arrest. I called at police headquarters to swear out a warrant against sheriff J. M. Deaver, of Marfa, Brewster county, on a charge of publicly cursing me in front of the Mills building and with assault and battery."

"I was referred to the justice of the peace and had to go there to file my complaint. In company with the constable, we looked up the officer to whom I had applied and who promised me he would watch the man I wanted arrested, but he frankly told me he let him go."

"It was over 24 hours before Sheriff Deaver was arrested, after which he pleaded guilty in justice J. M. Deaver's court, but not until I had to seek the assistance of local attorneys. The last appeal I made was to sheriff Deaver, who said he would let me go if I would let him go. He said he would let me go if I would let him go."

"I am a sick man and unable to defend myself and am forced to rely upon the aid of the law when attacked by a man as in this case, and I expected the assistance of the officers."

"Respectfully,"

"H. W. Schutte."
